DISCUSS PLANS FOR MUNICIPAL BUILDING

Commission Holds Preliminary Conference at the Treasury.

ONE FEATURE DETERMINED

Structure Will Not Be Extended Over E Street-Park Commission Objected to Closing of Thoroughfare-Unanimous Agreement Reached.

An important conference of the commission created by law to take charge of the erection of the proposed municipal building was held yesterday in the office of the Secretary of the Treasury. The commission is composed of the Secretary of the Treasury and the Board of District Commissioners.

The meeting yesterday was the first of the commission and had for its object the discussion of plans for the preliminary competition to obtain an architect for the building. Several matters also were talked over relatively to the size of the building and the views of Democrats Again Hold Upper Handarchitects as to the condemnation of E Street and the extension of the bullding over that thoroughfare.

Architect Gives Views.

Mr. James K. Taylor, Supervising Architect of the Treasury, was present his views upon the various subjects discussed. Owing to the illness of Com-Engineer Commissioner Newcomer represented the District Board. The meeting lasted for about two hours.

Commissioner Macfarland laid before Commissioner Macfarland laid before the commission a large amount of data obtained from conferences with Mr. Charles F. McKim, of the Senate Park Commission, from Mr. Elliott Woeds, Architect of the Capitol, and from Mr. Bernard R. Green, Architect of the Library of Congress. Mr. Macfarland also presented letters from the various heads of departments of the District government giving the amount of space required for the proper housing of the office, aggregating about 160,000 square were still in control, and he was, in 1897,

The ideas of these architects coincide with those of Mr. Taylor that it is crats have regained power after several neither necessary nor desirable for the hard fought campaigns, in which white commission to exercise its authority supremacy was the principal issue. They under the act of Congress for closing E have succeeded in having adopted an Street and constructing the building amendment to the State constitution over that thoroughfare. It was their unanimous opinion that the powerhouse because of illiteracy.

The commission also decided that the architect of the building should be selected by a limited competition of general plans, as in the case of the Department of Agriculture Building and the Municipal Hospital Building, Mr. Taylor will draw up the program of competition, for the approval of the commission. In passing upon the plans sub-mitted in the competition, Mr. Taylor, as in the case of the Department of Agriculture Building, will probably have the assistance of other experts as judges.

The style of building to be erected, and the material to be used in its construction were reserved for discussion at a meeting of the commission to be beld next Tuesday, after the return of Secretary Shaw from his visit to the President at Oyster Bay.

would be provided for in the plans to be worked out.

Though the preliminary meeting of the commission has been delayed by the serious illness of Commissioner John W. Ross, still, matters pertaining to the work of getting up the plans has prog-ressed rapidly. Through the energy of Commissioner Macfarland a great deal of data has been prepared, and the advisory architect will have in hand by next week all the information nec-essary for the immediate preparation of the preliminary plans, and the drafting of the program of competition to obtain an architect for the building.
